ESG benefits for public and private companies

- Risk Management: Assess and mitigate risks related to climate, social and governance issues. Protect your reputation and ensure long-term growth.
- Attract Investments: Secure funding from institutional investors considering ESG for investment decisions.
- Attract New Customers and Talent: Demonstrate your commitment to DE&I, community engagement, transparency and accountability.
- Regulatory Compliance: Be prepared to seize opportunities as regulatory bodies worldwide are implementing stricter guidelines and regulations to promote sustainable business practices.

ESG federal procurement initiatives

- Large businesses bidding on OASIS+ will receive 1 credit for public disclosure of Scope 1 & 2 greenhouse gas emissions.
- The upcoming Alliant 3 RFP (GWAC) includes 3,500 points for sustainability-related public disclosures of greenhouse gas emissions (1,750 points for Scopes 1 & 2 and 1,750 points for Scope 3).
- The FAR Council is being directed to amend procurement rules to minimize climate change risks, factoring the social cost of greenhouse gas into procurement decisions.
- A Net-Zero Emissions Procurement Federal Leaders Working Group is being established. This group will include a Buy Clean Task Force.
- The US Department of Defense is shifting to 100% carbon pollution-free electricity to support the federal initiative to achieve a carbon-free sector by 2035.
