Housing authorities face a number of challenges each day, from a complex regulatory environment to understaffed teams and growing workloads. At Aprio, we're here to help by providing you with the solutions you need to tackle these complexities and ensure compliance with federally-mandated programs and requirements.

Aprio's Public and Affordable Housing groups have performed over 2,200 public housing audits over the last three decades. In addition to housing authority audits, Aprio provides a comprehensive range of tax and consulting services to improve the efficiency, fiscal health and financial sustainability of public housing authorities. Aprio strives to serve public and affordable housing clients as business partners, providing value beyond the annual audit.
